D. Relevant dates of Involvement in UCE (years)

The Centre for Continuing Education at the Carl von Ossietzky University in Oldenburg (ZWW - Zentrum für wissenschaftliche Weiterbildung) was established in 1975. It was first founded as a small project aiming to establish a co-operation regarding adult education courses between the University of Oldenburg and centres of adult education in Lower Saxony. Since then the centre has extended year-by-year and widened its field of activity. In addition to this co-operation and the realisation of courses in education, the ZWW nowadays co-ordinates the professional training for university employees, the university's guest auditor programme, the Z-Prüfung (a special university admission test), ethnic minority projects as well as short- and long-term postgraduate courses.
